

CONTRACT TO BE LET ON THE CANYON ELECTRIC

Manager P. D. Kilne of the Ogden Rapid Transit company states that contracts for all the material for the construction and operation of electric extensions in Cache valley have been let and that building operations are progressing throughout Cache county, extensions being made both north and south from Logan.

The contracts include ties, rails, cars, wire, electrical machinery and all material needed in building and operating a first-class electric car system.

Much of the material for the Hermitage-Idelwild extension has been ordered and considerable of it is already at hand. It is expected that contracts for wire and other material will be entered into in the course of a few days and that building will begin at an early time. The surveyors have about concluded their work and grading contracts will be let.

W. O. W. TO HAVE A BIG CELEBRATION

Weber Camp No. 74, Woodmen of the World is planning one of the biggest events in the history of fraternal organizations in Ogden, for the night of Monday, June 15, when a class of over 100 candidates will be initiated into the order.

The plans for the event were discussed at the regular meeting of Camp 74 last night and it was decided to begin the celebration with a big parade. This will be led by a large number of "horribles" with a brass band following and behind the band will march the officers of the head camp, then the officers and members of Weber camp and the visiting camps. It is expected that the number of marchers will exceed 1000, as the local lodge has over 750 members.

At the meeting, one of the speakers will be Head Consul Brock of the order and a number of other officers of the head camp will also assist in the initiation ceremonies.

The semi-annual election of officers was held in connection with other business matters last night. Those elected were as follows: Consul commander, C. H. Hartog; advisor lieutenant, Brig Shupe; escort, J. L. Keller; watchman, William Muller; sentry, A. E. Bruntson; manager, eighteen months, Mathew Galt.

MANY NEW MACCABEES.
Pocatello, Idaho, June 4.—Tomorrow night the Maccabees will initiate a large class of new members. State Commander Fred Brockman will be present to assist in the ceremonies and to give counsel to the lodge here. Record Keeper Paul De Vriendt and Deputy State Commander E. M. Mann state that more than the majority of the class will be pledged and they think the class will number about fifty by tomorrow night. This is the first large class taken into the Maccabees here for some time.

THIRD DEATH WITHIN YEAR IN FAMILY OF B. H. GODDARD

Lucretia Kelly Goddard, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Goddard, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 332 Third-third street, from cholera. Her death makes the third one in the family within a year. She was born in Ogden, April 5th, 1901 and last year was a student at the Lewis Junior high school. A number of weeks ago she was compelled to leave school on account of illness caused by the cholera and about 10 days ago her condition became quite serious. She is survived by her parents and the following brothers and sisters:

Francis K., Ella K., Helen K. and George.

The funeral will be held Sunday in the First ward meeting house at 2 p. m.

PLEA OF MONOLITHIC PETITIONERS DENIED

Salt Lake, June 5.—The state capital commission yesterday, after hearing the statements of several prominent citizens in favor of constructing a monolithic colonnade about the new state capitol, decided against reconsidering the vote by which the plan for monoliths had been rejected. The only possibility now of securing monoliths for the state capitol is through popular subscription and it is possible that this step may be taken. While there was no record vote taken on monoliths for the state capitol, the members of the commission made it plain that John Derr, Anthony H. Lund and C. E. Looke favored monoliths, while Governor William Spry, Secretary of State David Mattson, Attorney General A. R. Barnes and M. S. Browning opposed the proposed monolithic colonnade. The opposition to monoliths for the state capitol was based almost solely upon the ground that the state could not afford the additional expense which the monolithic colonnade would entail. The question of the architectural value of monoliths, however, was also raised. Mr. Barnes contending that the adoption of a monolithic colonnade might result in an architectural blunder.

LEAGUE PRESIDENT TALKS ON ROWDYISM

"I realize there has been a lot of criticism regarding the Marshall incident, and I wish to make my position clear in the matter," said President E. F. Murphy of the league in a statement published in the Butte Miner.

"But for one thing I would have taken the action that the fans demanded. I should have suspended both Marshall and Holmes. I certainly would have done so and would have done so in any city where such a disgraceful affair took place, but for one reason.

"The reason is this: Butte is not a strong team right now and but a hard row to hoe from now on. If Marshall and Holmes were to be suspended, as they should have been, it would not only have weakened the Butte team, but it would have weakened the league, and right now, with the teams just getting into the summer stride, I hesitate to take the strenuous action which the occasion, under ordinary conditions, would have demanded."

"Butte has shown a disposition to attend baseball this season. Butte rather appears to want the game more than for several years, and while Saturday's incident hurts, it would be greater damage from any point of view to cripple the Butte team at this time."

"But there is one thing I want thoroughly understood. If such rowdyism ever occurs on the Butte field, or on any field, again, I will suspend the entire club, which ever it may be, and will not for an instant stand for any more disturbances on the field. If it becomes necessary I will put any club, a member of which causes a disturbance similar to that of Saturday, out of the game if it breaks up the league."

SWAMPED BY PARCEL POST ORE SHIPMENTS

Butte, Mont., June 4.—Butte's post office is wrestling with the problem of how to handle and deliver seven tons of ore, recently shipped by parcel post from Idaho to the Washoe sampling works here. The ore was consigned in 50-pound sacks. This postoffice has received and delivered heavy shipments before, but this seven tons is a record breaker. Just

Why Are Nectar Brand Hams & Bacon Superior

Are you aware that the Danish Pork is all the time topping the London market, the largest market in the world?

Yet there is no corn raised in Denmark, and still we are told by the corn-producing states that corn grows the best pork.

The facts are simply these: That the best and sweetest pork is produced by feeding peas, barley or wheat and dairy products, and this is the way the Danish hog is raised.

For that very same reason our Nectar Brand Hams and Bacon excel in quality and flavor the corn-fed article, as all our hogs are fattened on peas, barley, wheat and dairy products in the intermountain country under the most favorable climate for hog raising purposes.

As a result of this, our hams and bacon are not all "smoke and grease," but they have that well balanced combination of fat and lean, evenly distributed, that has made our products the favorite in the Intermountain and Coast regions.

All dealers handle it. Insist on getting it. You will find the flavor and the quality there. Watch the display made by every store in town. Every piece is U. S. Inspected.

now it is stacked on the floor of the basement of the postoffice. An effort was made to deliver it in the wagon that is used for the regular parcel post delivery work, but the heavy sacks were too much for the light vehicle and it was soon in need of repairs. Should Postmaster Gillis hire a six-horse wagon to haul the ore to its proper destination, it would require two trips of the team and would cost the government more than the fee it has accepted for the delivery.

The question is a serious one for the local postal authorities. Ore is being shipped to Butte and out of Butte via parcel post and this kind of shipment is increasing, both in number and weight, and the handling of the heavy stuff is more than the force can well manipulate.

EXTENSION TO BE FINISHED AUGUST 1

Salt Lake, June 5.—A. A. Codd of Orem, Nev., president and general manager of the Nevada Short Line railroad and owner of lease No. 2 on the ground of the Rochester Mines company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and is at the Utah extension in operation.

He says the grading for the extension will be finished by June 20 and that the road will be completed and in operation by August 1. Its advent into the camp is being awaited with interest, as the advantages it will confer on shippers of medium-grade ore are keenly realized.

Mr. Codd says the lease is now shipping about forty tons a day and is looking fine. A depth of 400 feet has been attained and much of the ore now being mined is coming from this level. From now until the railroad is completed into the camp the shipments from the Codd lease may be reduced somewhat as it can be shipped at less cost as soon as the extension is in operation.

In Mr. Codd's opinion the camp is looking better right now than it ever has. Mr. Codd will be in the city for two or three days.

CHAS. B. JACK IS SUDDENLY CALLED

Salt Lake, June 5.—Charles B. Jack, 60 years of age, a prominent Mason and attorney and a resident of Salt Lake since 1887, died suddenly of apoplexy at the residence of S. D. Evans, 59 Third East street, last night at 10:55 o'clock.

Mr. Jack was sitting on the porch of the Evans home chatting with Mr. Evans when he suffered the seizure that resulted in death within twenty minutes. Together he and Mr. Evans had attended a meeting of the Utah commandery, F. and A. M., at the Masonic temple and had walked as far as the residence of Mr. Evans, when Mr. Jack stopped there for a moment at 819 East First South street.

As soon as Mr. Jack showed signs of distress Dr. H. N. Mayo was summoned by telephone, but death had resulted before he could reach the suffering man. Up to the moment of the attack Mr. Jack had been apparently in the best of health.

Mr. Jack was born in Burlington, Iowa, April 21, 1854. He was a son of Charles H. and Sarah Freeman Jack. Educated in the public schools of Iowa and in the State University of Iowa, from which he took successively the degrees of A. B., LL. D. and A. M., he was admitted to practice law in his native state in 1878 and in Utah in 1887. He was a member of the Alta club of this city and was reputed to be the best informed man in the west with regard to Free Masonry. He was past grand commander of the Utah commandery No. 1, F. and A. M., and a K. C. C. H. of Scottish Rites, F. and A. M.

Mr. Jack was a bachelor. He is survived by a brother, J. F. Jack, of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Lillian Rancho, an attaché of the forestry department at Washington, D. C. A niece, Mrs. Mort Allen, is living in Montreal, Canada.

During his career in Salt Lake Mr. Jack had achieved a position of prominence among the legal fraternity and was a man of wide-felt influence in legal matters. In recent years he had been occupied much with the legal interests of Colonel E. A. Wall-

He was a recognized authority on mining law, of which he had made a specialty.

HE DENIES STORY TOLD BY MELLEN

By C. B. FORBES

Washington, June 4.—Mellen was hurried into the subcellars of the Ananias club today by Lewis Cass Ledyard, one of the Morgan legal fraternity.

The Morgan-Rockefeller scheme is to rush all their legal big guns to the firing line—and keep safely and snugly in the background themselves.

What's the use of having our staff expensive lawyers if they cannot keep you out of the clutches of the courts, commissions, governmental investigators and other representatives of the public?

Mr. Ledyard volunteered to mount the stand before Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord today, but neither Chief Counsel Folk nor the commission would let him talk under oath. He was allowed to talk and talk to his heart's content without one teeny, weeny interruption. And how he went at it, hour after hour, from forenoon till adjournment time he enjoyed an oral go-as-you-please.

He made a good impression, however, by his apparent sincerity and anxiety to give a full account of his stewardship.

Lawyer Lynde Stetson, I understand, is itching to pound Mellen and add to the daily eulogies of his dead client, the great Morgan—who, by way of change, was described by director William Skinner today as a "silent man."

George F. Baker was on hand, but was elbowed off by Mr. Ledyard. Mr. Baker, on being excused, made a dash for a train to New York, where he will meet his family on their arrival from Europe tomorrow.

William Rockefeller's attorney promises to be on hand tomorrow morning. But not Rockefeller. As I have already said, what are lawyers for, anyway, if they can't shield millionaire clients from the institution ordained by the republic to carry out order and good government?

Let it never be said, however, that a lawyer ever refuses to take money. Mr. Ledyard declared today that he spurned part of the plentiful spoils J. P. Morgan—Co. pocketed in connection with the famous flotation of the steel trust. The profits from that dazzling financial feat were computed, I think, at between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000 by the Pujo committee. So there was lots to go round. But Mr. Ledyard's conscience would not let him keep the share Mr. Morgan, much to the lawyer's surprise, sent to him.

Mellen did not save J. P. Morgan's life by taking an indictment properly belonging to the banker and in connection with which Mellen testified papers had been served upon Morgan.

Ledyard, with fire in his eyes, flung that flat contradiction at Mellen's head today. On this occasion only did Ledyard show the slightest heat, mentally, but he was perspiring all afternoon, for the atmosphere was choking.

Quite by accident—according to the Ledyard version of the incident to the Ledyard version of the incident—J. P. Morgan dropped into Mellen's office in New York one day and found him conversing with Messrs. Chamberlain and Smithers concerning Grand Trunk negotiations. This followed.

"Morgan, in his bluff way, told them, 'There'll never be peace until we get the New London and Northern,' then he walked out."

"Mellen said: 'Never mind what Mr. Morgan said.'"

"Mellen admitted Mr. Morgan had no more to do with it than that. The New London was not involved in any way."

"Mellen never took over an indictment meant for Mr. Morgan. The only question was Mellen's own indictment. He says he took the whole responsibility on himself. He took none. The letter Mellen wrote the district attorney was not the letter of a man accepting responsibility; it was the letter of a man claiming innocence."

Provo, Utah, June 4.—Albert Hawkins of Grace, Idaho, and Blanche Pelkey of Provo were married here today by Deputy County Clerk Milton Chipman.

KING'S PALACE NOW INVADED

London, June 5.—The king and queen held court at Buckingham palace last night, and in spite of all precautions a militant suffragette gained access to their presence and caused an interruption to the presentations.

As she was passing the ring, the suffragette dropped on her knees and shouted:

"Your majesty, for God's sake do not use force!"

The woman was attired in court dress, and her action caused profound astonishment. She continued to admonish the king, but her words were inaudible, as the conductor of the band in the gallery, quick to observe the incident, signaled to the band to play louder, and the woman's voice was drowned.

She was removed from the room and handed over to the police. The name of the woman is not known, and close inquiries are being made as to how she obtained a card of admission.

Among those presented to the king and queen were Miss Esther Cleveland of Princeton, daughter of the late Grover Cleveland; Ralph Page, son of the American ambassador, and Mrs. Ralph Page; Mrs. Edward Bell, wife of the second secretary of the American embassy; Mrs. Randolph Mordecai and Miss Margarita Pennington, both of Baltimore; Miss Dorothy Doubleday of New York and Miss Mary Sanger of Sangerfield, N. Y.

The scene, which gave a shock to those in the immediate vicinity of the royal circle, was very brief, and the assemblage generally had scarcely any knowledge of what was happening.

PROGRESSIVES TO MEET.

Provo, Utah, June 4.—Monday evening at 8 o'clock the Progressives of Provo will hold a mass primary in the court room to elect delegates to the Progressive state convention in Salt Lake June 11.
